The Solo Sessions

Nikki Borodi is a Renaissance woman. Whether writing songs, performing live as an aerialist or painting visual treats, Nikki carries her creativity with her and nurtures all those who cross her path with it. Even though she's gifted with multiple talents, Nikki finds her true path is as a musical performer and songwriter.

In her first album for Valence Records, The Solo Sessions, Nikki bares her soul in simple renditions of her compositions using only her voice and ukelele or piano. Her luscious voice carries you through emotional doors where you'll find experiences of your own life waiting to be remembered.

The Solo Sessions is a collection of songs about love. Not always happy, sometimes sad, but always real encounters we all face. "Come Get Lost With Me" begins with a simple ukelele riff and takes you on a journey of a stranger finding another lost soul while wandering streets of an unknown land. In "I Can't Breathe" Nikki expresses the sense of longing we have all shared yearning for a love that is not near. The dark melody of the piano combined with the expressiveness of her voice is heart wrenching truth. "Let Me Down Easy" is a lighter take on the prospects of vanishing love.

The recordings were made at OTR Studios with Cookie Marengo engineering using her proprietary recording technique called E.S.E. (Extended Sound Environment). These high fidelity recordings are available as DSD downloads as well as 9624 and CD quality wave files at Downloads NOW!

Living in the San Francisco Bay Area, Nikki can often be found with her group with a cellist and vocal percussionist (beat-box) performing regularly and herself on voice, electric piano and ukelele.
